To Whom It May Concern,

It is my distinct pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Aryaman Patel in consideration for future employment opportunities in the software engineer industry. As one of Aryaman's supervisors at Rutgers University, I believe that I can speak to his outstanding work ethic, character, and problem-solving abilities.

The student workers employed by the Rutgers University Student Centers are entrusted with upholding the many policies of our facilities and institution, as well as providing excellent customer service to the Rutgers community. Aryaman knows what it means to create a welcoming environment; despite having to uphold the policies in his area, he always works hard to give our students and clients alternatives that would leave them smiling. With his ambition, welcoming demeanor and friendly attitude, Aryaman has always stood out as a staff member and leader. In fact, these traits are what led to Aryaman being promoted to our Building Operations Manager position. While being new to the position and all of its moving parts, he never allowed himself to become overwhelmed. Aryaman leads by doing, he is always the first one on the job when needed and does not leave until a task is completed correctly, often suggesting new and inventive ways to complete tasks in the office.

Aryaman's philosophy of working hard and attention to detail is clear in how much care he puts into his work; juggling the responsibilities of being a college student, family obligations, and multiple job positions comes naturally. From frequent conversation with him, I believe that this can be attributed to his passion for service and his drive for his own personal success. Aryaman is highly motivated in all of his endeavors, knowing that he is working towards a career, and his future, keeps him motivated to push forward and strive for the best. Aryaman's drive is complemented by his approachable air, he focuses on making people feel at ease while handling situations together as a team to achieve the best outcome.

Aryaman's ambition and initiative explains why he is so passionate about both his classwork, and his other job pursuits. His dedication to success and achievement is why I feel confident that he would make be an excellent candidate to join your organization.
